MEMORANDUM FOR THE EMECUTIVE OFFICER, CONTACT BRANCH Subject: Employment of Satired Officers

- 1. On 29 August 1947, you wrote a mamorandum to the Chief, Fersonnel Branch, requesting information on the effect of Section 303 of the Sational Security Act of 1947 on the hiring of retired Wavy and Army officers. The Personnel Branch referred the question to our office on 9 September. Since that time, we have been attempting to obtain a satisfactory answer to your question but without success.
- 2. Since the Office for the Secretary of Defense has the same problem, we discussed it with them, and they in turn discussed it with the experts in that field at the General Accounting Office. The final result was advice from the General Accounting Office that the various statutes! rules and decisions regarding the hiring of recired officers were so confused, and often contradictor; that no general rules could be set forth (this applies not to officers retired for combat injuries, or illness in line of duty, but to those retired in the normal longevity laws). In effect, this weens that each case would have to be transmitted for a separate ruling in order to protect both the retired officer and the certifying officers of the agency. Such a procedure is so combersome that the Office of the Secretary of Defence has informally determined not to consider retired officers for employment. Legislation has been prepared to simplify and clarify the situation, but the Conoral Accounting Office could not estimate when such legislation might be presented, or in what form it might be passed.
